Abridgment of Conditions of the competition and of participation DETAIL prize 2016

When the author logs in, he/she must declare that he/she consents to the conditions of participation for the awards procedure. Moreover, he/she must possess the consent of owner(s), client(s) and photographer(s). After nomination, DETAIL will require each participant to send in written declarations of consent with the signatures of all the above-named parties involved.

- The author must accept the brief/terms and conditions of participation and confirm that they are the author of the submitted works. The declaration also implies that the author releases the promoter from all third-party claims. With the declaration of authorship, the author renounces at no charge to the promoter the publication, usage and exploitation rights to the submitted project including for photographs and plans thereof as part of the competition proceedings and communication measures within the context of the DETAIL Prize 2016.
- The owner/builder declares that they are the owner of the property and grant approval to the author to submit the said object to the competition without restriction, and the promoter permission to publish information about the property worldwide including photographs and plans thereof within the context of the DETAIL Prize 2016.
- The photographer declares that they are the author of the submitted photographs and allow the promoter unrestricted worldwide use of the corresponding photographic material within the context of publications for the DETAIL Prize 2016.
